Death of Mrs. Kruger.

Mrs. Augusta Kruger, beloved wife of Fred Kruger of the west side, died very suddenly on Friday afternoon from heart failure. Mrs. Kruger had been enjoying her usual good health and had gone out into the yard to do some small chore, and fell over on the ground and when assistance reached her she was dead.

Deceased was born in the province of West Prussia Germany on the 25th of September, 1844, and was therefore 68 years of age. She was married in 1867 to Fred Kruger and came to this country soon after with her husband and has long been a resident of Grand Rapids.

She is survived by her husband and eight children, they being Charles and Herman of this city, Mary of Elk Lake, Edna of Glenmore, Minn., and Tillie, Emma, Grace and Ella of this city.

The funeral was held on Monday afternoon from the home on the west side, Rev. Nommensen of the west side Lutheran church conducting the services.

Oaqualaska.—White excavating a dry well in the back yard. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Holtz, of Benahm and Abby inserted in the bottom of the well, the bones of a human, which were probably there for years ago, as the bones were so decayed that they crumbled coming in contact with the air.

Shoshone.—While hunting of a druggist of this city was by a companion, August Kavel, who was concealed in the brush where Fred fired at a brace of partridges. Several were scattered through his chest going through his legs, two into his forehead and one through his arm. "I will recover," says Saenger, "shot through the hand by a 22-caliber rifle while walking along the shore."

Mylmarth. — As the sequel to mylarth troubles during buck mooning, Alvira Roehr, aged twenty-two, had killed his father-in-law, Phillip Ott, aged forty-five, mother-in-law, Mrs. Phillip Ott, forty-two, and his wife's grandfather, Fred Haug, aged eighty. "I was a calm search for revenge in my mind," he declared, "I forced in a new wood. That Roehr did not shoot divorced wife and her baby was to the fact that the girl sought to behind a sliding partition in a room in the Ott farm house. The little baby cried in the breast, and the cries of the infant's mother to stop, the girl's wife of Roehr cried behind a partition while her husband armed with a shotgun and a blood lust in his heart, searched for blood for her. For three days the girl remained in hiding and only coming out when she felt it to do so."

LOCAL ITEMS.

W. H. Bowden of Babcock was in the city on business on Saturday.

Mrs. Henry Demitz has been visiting with her parents in Madison the past week.

Earl Hill and Harold Arpin attended the football game at Madison on Saturday.

Next Sunday evening Rev. L. B. Johnson will preach at the First Lutheran church.

Mrs. Ella Dahlke has accepted a position as stenographer at the Ellis Lumber Co's. office.

Mrs. Wilbur Herschleb has been confined to her home with sickness for several weeks past.

Mrs. M. G. Gordon and children have been visiting relatives in Tomah the past week.

Miss Alma Eggett visited at the A. Damon home in Madison on Saturday and attended the football game.

Mrs. E. Oskinen and Mrs. Smart of Plover were guests at the home of Atty. Frank Oskinen several days the past week.

Miss Agnes Daly returned on Saturday from Merrill where she had been the guest of Miss Margaret Sullivan for several days.

L. E. Baughman, one of the progressive farmers of the town of Ladolph, was a pleasant caller at this office on Monday.

Work on the new local theatre is progressing nicely and with a few days more of nice weather it will be possible to have the building inclosed.

Fred, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schultz of the west side, had a leg broken one day last week while playing football at the Emerson school.

Oliver Malott, who has been operating the steam roller for the city this fall, leaves on Thursday for Marquette, Iowa, where he will operate a dredging machine.

The children of the German Lutheran school on the east side had a Halloween party on Friday evening at which there was a very pleasant time.

—LOST—A little satchel between Chas. and Meyer's place. Finder please notify Fred Krause, Grand Rapids, Wis., Route 2.—Advertisement.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Olenchuk moved into their new home on the east side last Thursday and are now nicely settled. They have a very nice home and it will no doubt prove a comfortable home.

The Lady Macbeths entertained their husbands and friends at a Dutch party on Friday evening. Those attending were arrayed in Dutch costume and a great time was reported by all.

The Amusement hall was opened for business on Friday evening and a good sized crowd was in attendance to participate in skating. The floor has been put in good shape during the past summer.

The milk dealers of this city have raised the price of milk one cent a quart, commencing on the first of November. As the raise was unanimous it is quite evident that our milkmen are members of a trust.

Messrs. Chas. Natwick, Atty. J. J. Jeffery, Drs. Carl Bandelin, Geo. Houston and E. J. Clark and A. E. Hixey, Harold Arpin and August Miller leave on Friday for the wilds of Sawyer County, where they will spend ten days deer hunting.

Walter L. Conlath of Manitowish, Manitowish, who has been here for some time past looking after some business matters pertaining to the settlement of his father's estate, expects to leave today for his home. While in the city on Monday Mr. Conlath favored the Tribune office with a pleasant call.

Enil Steege of Ladolph was among the callers at the Tribune office on Tuesday. Mr. Steege reports that he cut 16 loads of clover hay from a five acre piece of ground during the first part of the season, and recently he threshed 18 bushels of clean clover seed from the second growth of clover on the same ground.

—Legal blanks for sale at the Tribune office.

D. C. Chapman, who has been operating a bakery in the old Johnson & Hill building on the west side during the past summer, has closed the place and gone out of business. Mr. Chapman intends to dispose of his fixtures if he can do so. Mr. Chapman had worked up quite a business, but found the work too confining for his health.

August Seun and Arthur Barry were up before Justice Pomainville on Saturday on a charge of jumping their boardbill at Vesper, the proprietor of the Commercial Hotel at Vesper. Seun paid a fine and costs while Barry, being unable to square up, was sentenced to the county jail for a term of 60 days.

—TO RENT—House on 4th Ave., just west of MacKinnon residence. Thoroughly repaired, plastered, painted inside and out. Electric lights and city water. Rent $10.00. F. MacKinnon.—Advertisement.

Work on the west side paving was delayed somewhat during the past week on account of the non-arrival of some crushed rock that was to be used on the work. The rock was received Saturday night, however, and the work has since been going forward at a good rate. It is expected to be able to throw the street open to traffic this week and the indications are now that it will present a handsome appearance.

—“Fortune Hunter” last season's record breaking success, comes to Daly's Theatre soon under direction of Rowland and Clifford. The play is by Winchell Smith and it tells in a bright manner a whimsical story of a young man's successful attempt to get on in the world. He goes from a clerk, works his way in the favor of the community and into the love of a rich girl, but he marries a poor one instead. Denton Vane will be the fortune hunter and Grace Childers the poor country girl.—Advertisement.

—“Fortune Hunter” last season's record breaking success, comes to Daly's Theatre soon under direction of Rowland and Clifford. The play is by Winchell Smith and it tells in a bright manner a whimsical story of a young man's successful attempt to get on in the world. He goes from a clerk, works his way in the favor of the community and into the love of a rich girl, but he marries a poor one instead. Denton Vane will be the fortune hunter and Grace Childers the poor country girl.—Advertisement.

Casey-Schmidt. At the parish of St. John's Catholic church on Wednesday morning at seven o'clock, occurred the marriage of Miss Margaret Susan Casey of this city to Edward Albert Schmidt of Grand Rapids. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. Jos. Volz before a large number of relatives and close friends of the contracting parties. The bride, tastefully attired in a blue tailored traveling suit, was attended by her sister, Miss Winnifred Casey, and the groom by John Hasselbach. Following the ceremony the wedding party was driven to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Waggoner 107 South Vine street where they sat down to a sumptuous wedding breakfast and were entertained until their departure on the 12:05 O. & N. W. train for a two weeks honeymoon trip through the southern part of the state. Returning they will go to housekeeping at Grand Rapids, where they will be at home to their many friends after December 1st.

The bride is one of Marshfield's estimable and accomplished young ladies and enjoys the love and companionship of a wide circle of friends. Mr. Schmidt, the man of her choice, is a rising young business man of Grand Rapids, where he conducts a tin shop. He is a young man of sterling worth and popular with all who know him. Previous to going to Grand Rapids he was employed in the ware Co. and M. Hesterian & Son. With the many friends of the newlyweds, the Herald joins in wishing them a long life of happiness and success.

—Stage Heroines Now Do the Proposing.—The aggressive suffragette phase of the New Woman is beginning to affect the sentimental relationship of the theatergoer in an interesting manner. As may be seen in “The Fortune Hunter,” which comes to Daly's Theatre on Tuesday, Nov. 13th, the sweet young thing is now pursuing and proposing to the “juvenile,” thus reversing all amorous traditions.

When one sees the daughter of the village banker, in “The Fortune Hunter,” throw herself at the head of debonaire Nat Duncan just as he had planned that she should, and feels that the whimsical situation is managed in a plausible manner, memories of Bernard Shaw's tirade upon the degrading “life-force of the woman,” in “Man and Superman,” come back in a flood. In that most brilliant of the Shawian plays the general pursuit of man by woman was treated as a revolution paradox. But now, only a few years afterwards, all the stage heroines seem to be doing it.—Advertisement.

The approaching marriage of Nelson Pasineau of this city and Miss Marie Sommerfeld of Watertown was announced for the second time at the Catholic church on Sunday.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL
Miss Mary Pynch of Rudolph was visiting friends in this city on Tuesday.
Chas. Boklund was home from Minneapolis over Sunday to visit with his family.
Miss Ida Hagne of Necedah visited with friends in the city several days the past week.
J. R. Raza, the furniture man, spent several days in Chicago last week buying goods.
Miss Mayme Conaway returned on Monday from an extended visit with relatives in Minneapolis.
Mrs. Henry Alpine left for Chicago Tuesday to attend the funeral of her sister, Mrs. Kruckha.
Joe Corvieve arrived in the city on Tuesday to spend several days visiting with his mother.
Miss Jennie Kenyon of Jamestown, N. D., is visiting at the J. A. Kenyon home on Third Ave. South.
Dr. O. H. Eliason, state veterinarian, is in the city today, being called here on professional business.
Mrs. A. Blain returned on Tuesday from Tomahawk where she had been visiting her daughter for a week.
County Clerk Fred Eberhardt has issued 2890 marriage licenses to date, which breaks all previous records.
Atter, B. R. Goggin spent several days in Chicago arguing a case for the Grandfather Falls Paper Co. in the circuit court of appeals.
Mrs. John Hooten, who was prostrated some time ago with a stroke of paralysis, has been taken to River-view hospital for treatment.
Edward Boorman, who is attending the University at Madison, was home over Sunday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Boorman.
Louis Blumhach, who recently sold his farm in the town of Sigel, has bought a farm of 160 acres near Loyal and expects to leave today to take possession of his new property.
Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Brandage of Eureka, S. D., arrived in the city on Tuesday, being called here by the serious illness of Mrs. Brandage's mother, Mrs. Fannie Thompson.
Mrs. E. B. Brandage, who has been acting as assistant librarian, handed in her resignation at a meeting of the library board on Friday evening. Her successor has not been appointed as yet.
Charles F. Neuber has taken charge of the dance hall over the Bijou theater and will run the place in the future. He intends to have everything first class and up to date in the future the same as it has been in the past.
The rendition of "The Divorce Question" at Daly's Theater last Thursday evening was as good as anything that has visited this city for a long time, although the crowd in attendance was not as large as it should have been.
The deer season opens on the 11th and our local hunters are getting things ready for business. The indications are that about the usual number will go to the northern woods this season, and it is reported that deer are quite plentiful.
Myron Natwick was operated upon for appendicitis last week in Chicago, and reports from there are to the effect that he has not been getting along as well as he might since the operation. Mrs. J. W. Natwick, his mother, has been in Chicago with him since his illness.
Geo. P. Berkey and E. B. Redford left on Friday afternoon for Madison in Mr. Berkey's car to take in the football game between Wisconsin and Chicago. They found a part of the road pretty poor, especially where it had been fixed in places by throwing sand up onto the road, and stopped Friday night in Baraboo, arriving next morning in Madison. They returned home on Sunday.

Fred Kroger and family.

Hutchinson-Burnell.
Miss Ruth Hutchinson and Charles Burnell left this city on Wednesday evening for Chicago where they were going to be married. They were very quiet about the matter, and the first that was known of it was when Miss Hutchinson's people found a note from the young lady stating what they intended to do. Miss Hutchinson is well known here, having been employed as stenographer in the law office of Charles E. Briers, and is a most estimable young lady. The groom has made his home in this city for several months past and is a bright young man that has made many friends during the short time he has been here. The Tribune wishes with their many friends in extending congratulations.

Punished for Perjury.
Stevens Point Journal.—In the United States court at LaCrosse, in the case of the United States vs. Joseph Rebioki of this city, the defendant being charged with perjury, the jury, last Monday evening, returned a verdict of guilty. When making an application to the circuit court for this county to be admitted to citizenship Rebioki swore that he had been a resident of the state for one year—a statement that was not true, and hence his arrest, trial and conviction. The maximum penalty for the crime is a fine of $2,000 and imprisonment in one of the federal courts for a term of two years, but of course the maximum penalty may not be imposed by the court.
Later—Joseph Rebioki, convicted of perjury at LaCrosse, was brought to this city last Tuesday night to serve his sentence of six months in the county jail. It is said that after six months, if he has not paid the fine of $250 that was also imposed upon him, and he is not able to pay it, he can make an affidavit to that effect, commonly known as the "poor man's oath," and then, after serving one month more, will be discharged. Rebioki is the first Federal prisoner ever incarcerated in the Portage county jail. Uncle Sam will pay Sheriff Guyant $5.00 per week for his board. Rebioki expressed himself as being well pleased at being transferred from the LaCrosse to the Stevens Point jail. He says the cuisine of the LaCrosse bastille did not please him, either as to quality or quantity.

"KINDLING."
—Sarah Padden, one of the youngest and most interesting of the popular dramatic stars of the period, comes to Daly's Theater next Saturday, Nov. 9th, presenting Charles Kenyon's remarkable play, "Kindling."
"Kindling" tells of every woman's heart strings and fills strong men's eyes with tears; it portrays the deep, hidden emotions of humanity whether in palace or hovel.
Maggie Schultz looks forward with terror to the birth of her baby in her dark, unlovely tenement home. She dare not tell her husband, lest he strangle the helpless bit of life when it should come into the world; so him it was little short of murder to bring a helpless child into being, amid such surroundings. It required only a paltry sum to go into far away Wyoming a paradise of fresh air and glowing sunlight where her child could have a chance to grow up strong and decent. The fearful opportunity presented itself and Maggie could not resist the terrible temptation to steal the money necessary to take them to the land of her dreams. The theft is detected and her husband is dumfounded when she tremblingly reveals the truth to him.
"I never thought you were a 'tief Maggie!" murmurs her husband brokenly overwhelmed with the tragedy that had come upon them.
Fortunately the people from whom she had taken the money were human enough to understand and to forgive the deed and it is through their aid that Maggie and Heinie turn their faces Westward where they find "roses blooming in Wyoming."
Thirty of the best known writers in America have used their influence and prestige to persuade their friends to see "Kindling" and their efforts together with the exquisitely human and pathetic figure of Maggie have brought a tremendous success to the play. It is a vivid palpating human document all a quiver with pity and truth and written with a passion of sincerity so ardent as to seem almost ablaze.

NEWS FROM NEARBY PLACES.
Wausau Record.—Jim Anderson, living about one mile from Ogdensburg, was burned to death at his home about midnight last night. It seems the carpet in his bed room had been cleaned with gasoline yesterday and when he was on account of the gasoline, caused an explosion and he was burned or suffocated before assistance could reach him. The fire was extinguished and little damage done from that source. Mr. Anderson was about fifty-five years of age and had lived on a farm for a number of years.
The Stevens Point Paper & Pulp Co. has been organized with a capital stock of $100,000, the incorporators being John Strangus of Neenah and D. E. Frost and H. J. Finch of this city. The company has purchased the McDill water power, together with the buildings thereon and the adjacent property heretofore owned by the Wisconsin Graphite Co., and will commence to improve the same as soon as the deeds are placed on record. The two story and basement building now on the grounds will be utilized for the manufacture of pulp, but it will take about six months to make the necessary alterations, put in machinery, etc. The company, as the name indicates, also expect to eventually manufacture paper.—Gazette.

"The Fortune Hunter"
—Denton Vance plays the role of Nat Duncan in "The Fortune Hunter" under direction of Rowland and Clifford which comes to Daly's Theatre next month. He goes into a country town to win the village heiress according to rules laid down for him by his scheming agent. He finds the old country gossip the disloyal "pence officer," the local "dada" and all the other persons we have seen in the small country towns. Of all, however, the most lovable of all is the old country druggist, who has imperceptibly himself through lack of business acumen and wasting his time over seemingly worthless inventions.
The real story of the play develops when Nat Duncan takes on himself the burdens of the old druggist and makes of his own life as well as that of the druggist a solid success such as he has never been able to make when he too was a "no'er do well."
Theodore Book plays the part of the druggist with infinite pains and much success. Grace Childers, is Betty his daughter. A delightful comic role is that of the wife fearing herself played by Guy Kibbee. Harry Ellis, Edna Roland, Ernest Murray, Fred Hand, Alice Anderson and Herbert Beihen stand out prominently in the cast.—Advertisement.
